1 General Information

Dear Ski O-friends,

We received messages from different sides that our bulletin doesn't follow the latest IOF guidelines. We are sorry for that. So we adjusted it and re-calculated everything and now this bulletin 3a follows the newest IOF-rules and splits up the costs of accommodation, food, transport and fees.

Our calculated split-up prices include accommodation and food for Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

We are planning to give out a warm lunch of high quality, as well as one dinner at the opening and a banquet at the closing ceremony. We could not separate food given out at the individual accommodation from the accommodation itself as we would lose the substantial price reduction of the hotels. If you wish to organize your own accommodation and food close to Eugendorf or Salzburg according to the IOF rules, please feel free to do so. However, remember to consider that if you use Organizer's transport, this may have an effect on your traveling costs if the distance between CC and your individual accommodation is too big.

Best regards from Salzburg

Christian Breitschädel, OK-Chef

1.8 Costs – Split-up

According to IOF rules costs for the different segments have to be split up. We tried to make it as transparent as possible also regarding the different needs of JWOC and EYOC as well as competitors, team officials and media representatives. In sum, the split-up costs contain the same services as the packages above.

To follow the over-all service coverage of the different segments reference numbers (marked in blue within the different tables) and a matrix where all referenced numbers come together in combination with days and segments (see 1.8.5) are used. This makes it possible for you to find out which segment covers which services.
